

Male Prairie Falcons are often found on fence posts, whereas the females tend to perch higher on utility poles when both poles and fences are present. —ROB PALMER

